

Stillington Primary School Weekly Bulletin 21st April 2023

Class 1

We have had a great start to the new term—the children seem like they have all grown lots, too!

We have been thinking about our new topic “People who help us” this week, focusing on the role of the police. We have enjoyed playing in our role play area and have been finding out what equipment a police officer uses. Please see the attached topic letter to find out more of what we will be learning this half term.

We welcome any “People who help us” resources to school, such as doctors’ kits, police resources, dressing up outfits, to help the children to explore and deepen their learning.

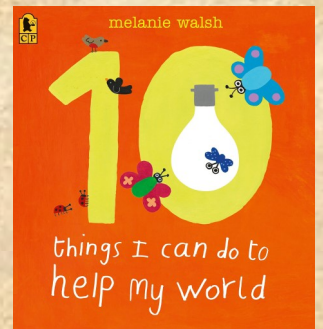

Class 2

It’s been lovely to welcome our children back to Class 2 after the Easter break.

We begun our summer term reading our new book, ‘10 Things I Can Do to Help my World’, creating our own poem about the things we can do at home to look after the environment. In maths, we are looking at different ways to collate information, such as using tally charts and pictograms.

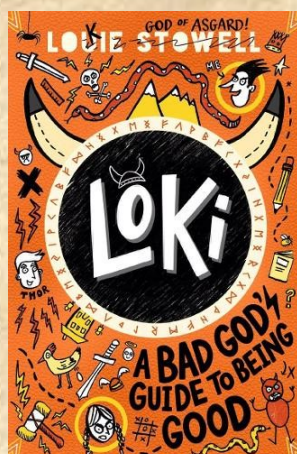

As the weather is becoming warmer and the sun is coming out, we ask that parents provide labelled sun cream for their child and a sun hat along with their water bottles so that the children are well-prepared for the heat.

Class 3

It’s absolutely wonderful to have the children back after the holidays! The sun has been shining and we’ve jumped straight back in our routines, with the added bonus of re-starting our swimming trips!

We are starting our topic on the Romans and beginning our new class text, which is called “Loki”.
